Congressional Matters.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Boutelle of Maine called up the naval appropriation bill, the pending question being upon an amendment adopted in Committee of the Whole, striking out the clause providing for the construction of three coast line battle ships.

The action of the committee was rejected, yeas 104, nays 132.

The Senate and House Republican committees on the silver question held a joint session of two hours this morning. Very radical differences in the views of Senators and Representatives were disclosed, but an earnest purpose was shown to harmonize the difference
if possible. One of the chief points upon which the committees could not agree was the proposed increase of the national bank circulation. Such a proposition, it was said, could not secure a majority in the House, and it was finally decided to commit the subject to a sub-committee of five Senators and five Representatives, who will continue the work of hunting for common ground on which they can stand.

Holman of Indiana moved to recommit the bill with instructions to the Committee on Naval Affairs to report it back with an amendment providing for one battle-ship. Lost—yeas 103, nays 123.

The bill was then passed.
It was understood yesterday that the tariff bill was to be reported to the House at noon to-day, but it appears that matters of importance remain to be settled, and the report is thereby delayed.

The sugar men, who are here in force, were heard this morning by the Republican members in secret session.
The air is filled with rumors of changes in the sugar schedules. One of these stories is that the Republicans have at last decided to place sugar on the free list and provide a bounty to sustain that industry in this country.

The subject of carpet wools was again opened for further adjustment.
Chairman McKinley says the bill will be reported to-day.

SENATE.
Among the petitions presented and referred was one from the Boston Executive Business Association for the privilege of purchasing ships abroad
for ten years.

Among the bills reported from committees and placed on the calendar was one providing for the return of second-class mail matter, and Senate bill to allow California to make certain grants to educational institutions.
Sherman offered a resolution, which was agreed to, directing the Secretary of the Interior to communicate to the Senate the report of Jesse Spaulding,
Government Director of the Pacific Railways, as to the general management of such railways.

Wilson of Iowa offered a resolution, agreed to, calling on the Secretary of the Treasury for information as to whether, since the adoption of the Treasury regulation of September 28, 1889, in reference to the transit of Chinese through the country and their departure therefrom, any Chinese who have entered for transit under such regulation, has failed to depart from the United States in due course of time.

Threatened Strike.

PITTSBURGH, April 15.—The meeting of the yard switchmen of various railroad lines centered here, which began last evening, did not close until nearly daylight. Grievances, including higher wages, shorter hours and experienced men, were to have been presented at 9 o'clock, but up to 11 o'clock the committee had not called on the officials.
The strike, if ordered, will involve several thousand men.

Newspapers Shut Out.

BERLIN, April 15.—The Tageblatt says Chancellor Von Caprivi has for-bidden the Ministers or other officials to furnish any communications to the newspapers. All intelligence which it is deemed desirable to be published will appear in the Reichsanzeiger, the official paper.

Stanley Contradicted by Emin.

By Cable and Associated Press.
BERLIN, April 15.—The National Zeitung publishes a communication indirectly from Emin Pasha, in which he seeks to rectify the statements recently made concerning him by Stanley. The letter says that when Emin left the equatorial province with Stanley he was accompanied by a few soldiers only, but this was because the period of twenty days fixed by Stanley
as the time for leaving the province was too brief to allow the men to be re-enlisted, and that the duffle remained in the hands of the Egyptians when Emin left. Stanley brought Emin only twenty boxes of ammunition, when Emin at that time had in his possession 220 boxes.

Carried On a Man-of-War.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 15.—The Secretary of the Navy this morning ordered the Commander of the United States steamer Alliance at Gibraltar to wait
there until the arrival of United States Consul Matthews and then sail with him to his post at Tangiers. It seems that certain diplomatic reasons, which the officials are not willing to disclose,
make it desirable that the Consul should make his appearance at Tan-giers on a man-of-war.

Interior Expeditions.

By Cable and Associated Press.
ZANZIBAR, April 15.—Additional porters to the number of 260 have left here to join the caravan which Emin Pasha is fitting out at Bagamoyo for an expedition into the interior. Major Wissmann equipped five other caravans, one of which is intended to proceed to the country north of Lake Tanganyika.

To Be Court-Martialed.

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 15.—The Judge Advocate-General of the Navy to-day submitted his preliminary report to Secretary Tracy in the McCalla case, recommending that Commander Mc-Calla of the corvette Enterprise, be tried by court-martial on the charges based on the facts developed during the recent investigation by the Court of Inquiry. The court is to meet at New York on Tuesday next.

Carpenters on a Strike.

By Associated Press.
INDIANAPOLIS, April 15.—Eight hundred carpenters struck to-day for eight hours and thirty-five cents per hour, in accordance with a notice given to the bosses three months ago. Only about 100 carpenters in the city are not included in the strike. The bosses have taken no action toward meeting
the demands, though some contractors have verbally agreed to concede them.

Arrests for Fraud.

By Cable and Associated Press.
LONDON, April 15.—A sensation has been caused in Bradford by the arrest of Francis Stubbs, who was at the head of the dyeing department of the Lister Silk Works, said to be the largest in the world. It is alleged that he has committed frauds amounting to thousands of pounds. It is expected others will be arrested for complicity
in the frauds.

Prussia's New Chancellor.

By Cable and Associated Press.
BERLIN, April 15.—The Prussian
Diet was opened to-day by Chancellor Caprivi. In his speech he said: "It is not my intention to state the Government's program, but having hitherto held aloof from political life, I now wish to speak a few words in order to approach you personally." (Cheers.)
The Chancellor then referred to the important position which had been held by Bismarck and expressed the hope that in the future the empire would continue secure. The edifice of State, he said, was cemented firmly enough to resist wind and weather.
Moreover, the noble personality of the young monarch had already manifested itself at home and abroad. He affirmed an undying belief in the future of Prussia and of the German Empire resting on Prussia's shoulders, for a long time to come would be a historical necessity. Both could anticipate the future full of hope. The Emperor had said his course would remain the same; the inauguration of a new era
therefore is not to be expected,
although a more harmonious solidarity
would be manifested among the members of the Diet. In conclusion, the Chancellor said he would allow the widest scope to practical criticism and would adopt what was good wherever found. He would co-operate with all persons having at heart the interests of Prussia and aiming to foster a mon-archist feeling in Prussia and a national feeling throughout the Empire.
(Cheers.)

Revision Probable.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 15.—The Presbytery yesterday elected delegates to the General Assembly at Saratoga on May 15th to settle the question of a revision of the confession of faith. New York's entire delegation are strong revisionists.

Democratic Victory.

By Associated Press.
BUTTE CITY, Mont., April 15.—The election yesterday for the selection of seven Aldermen and a Mayor was a complete victory for the Democrats.
Only one Republican was elected, and that by a majority of only three votes.
The only issue before the people was whether they would sustain the action of the Canvassing Board in throwing out Precinct 34.

pressing his views on momentous occasions.

The Wheat Excitement.

By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 15.—Wheat opened at 90 3/4 for May and 87 3/4 for July.
The excitement was intense. In five minutes it dropped to 87 1/4 for May and 86 1/4 for July. A reaction then set in, May advancing to 88 1/4 and July to 87.

New York Gold Bids.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 15.—A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce was held to-day to receive a report from the Committee on Finance and Currency
on "silver legislation by Congress."

The report adopted was as follows:
"The committee find it impracticable
to unite in a special recommendation.
They can only agree in deprecating
any measure by which this country shall accumulate in its treasury so large an amount of silver in any form as shall disturb our financial relations with other peoples, but that any law enacted on the subject should have respect to our commerce with the world at large."

In the discussion which followed much praise was accorded Secretary Windom for his plan of measuring the value of silver from a gold standard.
Further discussion was postponed until after the decision of the Republican caucuses at Washington.

German Socialists.

By Cable and Associated Press.
BERLIN, April 15.—The Volksblatt
publishes a manifesto by a meeting of Socialist delegates at Halle on Sunday.
It unanimously recommended the observance of May 1st as a general labor demonstration day, provided the workmen do not come in collision with the police. The demonstration, it says, ought to take the form of a day of rest.
Meetings should also be held to regulate the establishment of an eight-hour day and organize a petition for presentation to the Reichstag, asking for an eight-hour law. The manifesto further says that after the victories achieved by the Socialists at the recent election it is not necessary to hold a public review. All Socialist members of the Reichstag except one, who is in prison, signed a manifesto in which they urgently appealed to the workmen to avoid conflicts with the authorities, which, they declare, is hoped for by the Bourgeoisie.

The Loyal Legion Celebrate.

By Associated Press.
PHILADELPHIA, April 15.—A two-days' celebration of the 25th anniversary of the military order of Loyal Legion began this morning. All the incoming trains this morning brought commanderies from the various States.
It is estimated that when all have arrived, the attendance will number about 3,500 companies. At a meeting of the Commandery-in-Chief this morning, Ruford B. Hayes, Commander-in-Chief of the Order, presided.

General Wager Swayne of New York offered a resolution that, at the next annual meeting, the constitution be changed to permit the formation of a commandery in London, for the benefit of companions residing abroad. The matter was discussed until recess without action.

Sailors and Firemen's Union.

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 15.—The second day's session of the Sailors' and Firemen's Union had a full attendance. A motion was adopted that a committee of two be appointed to draw up a constitution, so the various unions can work in harmony, the committee to confer with the local unions on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and the lakes. Arthur Vanhove, a Philadelphian and J. E. O'Sullivan were elected as such committee.

5 O'CLOCK EDITION.

GENERAL BERDAN, the old Commander of the famous Berdan Sharpshooters of the war, has perfected an invention, he says at a cost of over $100,000, which will enable a soldier on the field to take the exact range of any object that he shoots at. He says that Major-General Schofield and D. M. Taylor, Captain of Ordnance, agree with him that his instrument is perfect. He says that with twenty cannons he could fill the largest iron-clad with enough shot to sink her with the dead weight of the metal before she could get up to New York harbor. Noting the fact that it takes one hundred shots in a battle to kill a man, he says that the failure is because soldiers do not make the proper estimate of the distance of the enemy, that before the war he tried this experiment by having one hundred men shoot at a barrel at a given distance. Out of one hundred shots only one took effect. Then he asked each man individually at what range he set his gun, and the nearest one was 350 yards short. The proper distance was then given the men and they were ordered to fire again, when before half had fired the barrel was destroyed, being shattered to pieces by the bullets. He believes with this invention he has killed war; that with it the destruction of life will be so great that it will simply be impossible for men to engage in war, as few men will face certain death.

ALL this twaddle about this party or that being favorable to silver is the vilest kind of rot. The truth is, the people at the East, Democrats and Republicans alike, are opposed to silver, and until the Pacific Coast States unite and demand a hearing, it will go just as it has gone in the past. The people of the West should unite and demand that the next National Conventions—Democratic and Republican—shall nominate a man friendly to our interests, and then see that he is elected. No more Cleveland or Harrisons should be given the power to show their animosity to our interests.

ITALY, under the House of Savoy, has been governed more purely under constitutional principles and forms than any of the great continental powers, but the upshot of Sunday's mass meeting at Rome illustrated the distance between American and European ideas of popular rights. It is true that Premier Crispi has to deal with a different people from our own. With a like elements equally numerous we might have adopted a like policy. All the more reason that we should exercise wise discrimination in making and executing our immigration laws.

In proposing to incorporate a regiment of Indians in the regular army, Secretary Proctor presumably contemplates using them on frontier service. They might make excellent troops for that purpose if not opposed to their own kinsfolk. Experience with Apache scouts shows that the Indian cannot be depended upon to hunt and fight his own people.

AFTER four years' experience with the Cleveland gold-bug administration, the Silver State gives its readers credit for very little intelligence when it claims that the party which gave Cleveland a hearty endorsement for a second term is the true friend of silver.

THE interesting statement is made on the authority of Commissioner Valentine of Vermont that more than half of the untenanted farms in that State were "deserted" in the period of low tariff, under Democratic Administrations between 1836 and 1860.

SIMPLY MARVELOUS!

SCARCELY eight months ago a medical discovery was placed upon the market bearing the title "THE GREAT SIERRA KIDNEY AND LIVER CURE," and whose virtue was claimed to be the cure of kidney and liver complaints. ITS INTRODUCTION WAS THE SIGNAL FOR ONE OF THE GREATEST SUCCESSSES ever achieved by a patent medicine on the Pacific Coast, as the afflicted quickly ascertained that it was far more efficacious and beneficial than had been claimed, as THE MOST WONDERFUL CURES WERE ACCOMPLISHED IN SUCH A BRIEF TIME as to seem MIRACULOUS.

The testimony of hundreds who have been lifted from sickness and misery to health and happiness bears no uncertain sound, and they join in glowing testimonials of universal praise, hoping thereby to induce other unfortunates to drink of the font which restores that which is priceless, health. ONE TRIAL WILL CONVINCE THE MOST DESPAIRING THAT AT LAST A DISCOVERY HAS BEEN MADE which will restore a disorganized system and bring glowing health out of pale and sallow decline. One dollar per bottle. Six bottles for five dollars.

A Pleasant Place
Of health and strength renewed and of ease and comfort follows the use of Syrup of Figs, as it works in harmony with nature to effectually cleanse the system when constipated and bilious. For sale in 50c. and $1.00 bottles by all leading druggists.

The Blessing of Strong Nerves.
Is recoverable, not by the use of mineral sedatives, but by a recourse of efficient tonic treatment. Opiates and the like should only be used as an expedient, and then as sparingly as possible. Vigorous nerves are quiet ones, and the most direct way to render them so is to reinforce the vital energies. That startling invigorant, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will be found entirely sufficient for this purpose, since it entirely removes impediments to thorough digestion and assimilation of food, so that the body is insured its due amount of nourishment, and consequently of stamina. Rheumatic tendencies and swellings of the kidneys and bladder are also counteracted by the bitters, which is besides a pleasant medicinal stimulant, infallibly purer than the raw excipients of commerce, which react injuriously upon the nervous system.

CATARHIS.

Catarhal Deafness—Hay Peter A New Home-Treatment.
Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result of this discovery is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarh, catarhal deafness and hay fever are permanently cured in from one to three simple applications made at home by the patient once in two weeks.

N.B.—This treatment is not a snuff or an ointment, both have been discarded by responsible physicians as injurious. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent on receipt of three cents in stamps to pay postage. A. H. Dixon & Son, 337 and 339 West King Street, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Advocate.

Sufferers from Catarhal troubles should carefully read the above.

On a recent visit to Iowa, Mr. K. Dalton of Luray, Russell Co., Kansas, called at the laboratory of Chamberlain & Co., Des Moines, Iowa, where he showed them his six year old boy, whose life has been saved by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy; it having cured him of a very severe attack of croup. Mr. Dalton is certain that it saved his boy's life and is enthusiastic in his praise of the Remedy. He says it has an excellent reputation in his vicinity; that farmers come fifteen miles to his store for it and that many of them like him, are never without it in their homes. For sale by Shoemaker & Co.

The Pulpit and the Stage.
Rev. F. M. Shourt, pastor United Brethren Church, Blue Mound, Kansas, says: "I feel it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly diseased and my parishioners thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery and am sound and well, gaining 25 pounds in weight."

Arthur Love, Manager Love's Funny Folks Combination, writes: "After a long and trying tour, I am confident Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption beats 'em all, and cures where everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do my many thousands of friends is to use them to try it. Free trial bottles at W. P. Plummer's drug store. Regular sizes 50c and $1.00."

A Sure Cure for Piles.
Itching Piles are known by moisture, like perspiration causing intense itching when warm. This form, as well as blood, bleeding and protruding, yield at once to Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly on the parts affected, absorbs the tumor, allays itching and effects a permanent cure. See Druggists or mail; treatise free. Dr. Bosanko, Piquette, O. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson.

A COMSTOCK TROUGH.

Who still Continue to Draw His Little Gun.
A press dispatch from Butte City, Montana, dated April 12, says: The registration of votes here to-day for next Monday's election came near ending in a serious riot. Political feeling has been high here since the last election, and every move on either side has been followed with most jealous care.

When a man named W. H. Deoney challenged the registration of another voter this afternoon, Miles Finlen, a well-known politician, took it up and a row ensued.

Finlen drew a pistol, but his arm was seized by ex-Chief of Police L. P. Smith and the gun turned down just as it was discharged. Smith was slightly wounded by a ball in the hip, but no one else was touched.

Excitement ran high and it looked as though a serious riot was imminent, but cooler counsel prevailed, and further trouble was avoided.

GOOD SHOOTING.

By Members of the Carson Guard Team.
Yesterday's Tribune says: Renewed interest appears to be taken in rifle shooting, and many of the younger members of the Carson Guard have commenced rifle practice for the first time. The scores made yesterday would be hard to excel in any land.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT.

A Handsome Profit and Grateful Teachers and Scholars.
The pupils and the teachers of the Reno High School wish, in the most public manner possible, to express their earnest and heartfelt thanks to all who assisted in making their recent entertainment such a marked success.

To the ladies for their untiring labor and generous donations; to the merchants, who also lent substantial aid, and to the public in general for their patronage, thus enabling them to realize a handsome sum, which will materially reduce the debt on the school plant. The total receipts amounted to $133.25; expenses, $30.50, leaving a net profit of $102.75. The Good Book said: "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver." The good people of Reno must be most loved by Him, surely, for all gave generously and cheerfully, and, like bread on the water, may it return to them multiplied a thousand fold.

Want a Railroad.

These people of Owens valley, says the Inyo Index, are willing to take their chances on the result of a southern railroad extension, and it can not be built too soon to suit those who have an honest desire to witness the prosperity of this section. If additional railroad facilities will not help general prosperity here, then the country is no good. Any country which a railroad will not benefit had better be abandoned.

San Francisco Meat Market.

Following are the rates for whole carcasses from slaughterers to dealers:

BEEF—First quality, 66¢/c; second quality, 65¢/c; third quality, 45¢/c per lb.
VEAL—Quotable at 45¢/c for large and 50¢/c for small.
MUTTON—Quotable at 60¢/c per lb.
LAMB—Spring, 60¢/c per lb.
PORK—Hogs, on foot, grain fed, heavy, 50¢/c; light, 55¢/c; dressed hogs, 55¢/c per lb.

Pleanty of Grass Expected.

A Helena, Mont., paper says there need be no fear of a shortage in the grass crop this year. The spring snow-storms are nearly always followed by copious rains, and if this season proves no exception to the rule, this will be a great year for the stock interests.

War Against Tramps.

The Commissioners of Elko county have notified the peace officers at Carlin to arrest all vagrants, and, upon conviction, place them in a chain gang, to work on the streets, schoolhouses or any public works, under the direction of an overseer to be appointed and paid by the Board.

A Busy Clergyman.

The other day a Minnesota clergyman traveled thirty miles, made six calls, visited two schools, gave an afternoon lecture and shot seven jack-rabbits, all between sunrise and sunset, and he said it wasn't a good day for pastoral work either.

Bought a Railroad.

Calvin S. Brice, Senator-elect from Ohio, has bought the Fort Wayne, Cincinnati & Louisville Railroad as a private personal speculation. The line runs through the heart of the Indiana gas fields, in which Mr. Brice is largely interested.

Postponed.

Members of Adah Chapter, O. E. S., are hereby notified that the special meeting called for to-morrow evening has been postponed to Wednesday, April 23d.

BREVITIES.

Local and General Intelligence.

This has been a charming day. Furnished rooms to rent—see 50-cent notice.

The fishing still continues good at Donner Lake.

Read the 50-cent ad. of Young & Co's combination fence.

Carson is still agitating the bond question for a public school building.

The Presbytery of Sacramento at Colusa, Cal., voted 8 to 9 against revision of the Confession of Faith.

The First Universalist Church, casting over $50,000, was dedicated at Pasadena, Cal., Sunday free of debt.

President Gould of the State Agricultural Society is hard at work and will make the Fair this fall a brilliant success.

The Napa county, Cal., Grand Jury recommends a higher liquor license and a special police system to look after tramps.

A. H. Manning carries the most complete stock of hardware of any house in town. Give him a call before making your selection.

The millmen up the river report orders coming in at a rate that will take all the lumber on the Truckee before the mills can start up.

Marcus Fredrick's Commercial Row stand is the place to go for all the best brands of tobacco, cigars and cigarettes. Clocks, watches and jewelry repaired.

Charley Leeper received a telegram yesterday announcing the death, at Wallula Junction, Washington, of his brother Albert, a former resident of Reno.

The river is very high and millions of gallons of water are running to waste that might just as well be stored, but then "We never miss the water till the well runs dry."

President Gould offers a special premium of $50 for the best exhibit of horses at the Fair this fall, and W. O. H. Martin offers another of $50 for the best exhibit of cattle.

Mrs. S. P. Davis of Carson was severely bruised last Sunday by having the buggy in which she was seated run into by a couple of drunks, both of whom were trying to drive one pair of horses.

If Deputy Secretary of State A. C. Pratt has been "employed by the U. S. Treasury Department to write up the history and resources of Nevada," why should he call on the State Board of Trade for "more mud?"

On the Draughtish river, within eight miles of Seattle, Sunday, Mart Manson fell into the water and Sigmund Johnson sprang to his rescue. Manson clasped his friend around the waist and both were drowned.

More claims will be worked this year on the Yuba river than for the past fifteen years, says the Grass Valley, Cal., Telegraph. The greater part will be done by Chinese, who have secured leases of the ground.

Dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache and that tired feeling are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, which tones the stomach, promotes healthy digestion, creates an appetite, cures sick headache and builds up the whole system. Sold by all druggists. 100 doses One Dollar.

The body of Emil Grim, who has been missing from Pasadena, Cal., has been found. He went hunting on the 4th of April, and it is supposed that he accidentally shot himself, a wound and the situation of the body indicating such an accident.

W. O. H. Martin is receiving large invoices of goods daily. If you want an article and don't want to pay more than it is worth, go to Mr. Martin's. If you want anything that you can't find elsewhere, go to Martin's. In fact, you will find it to your interest to go there anyway.

Heartily Applauded.

P. T. Barnum, who has just returned from his conquests in London, said in a recent interview: "The English were glad to see an old fellow of eighty cross the Atlantic with three of Noah's ark. They like pluck, and considered that plucky. When I drove around the ring in the grand procession in my high carriage, with coachmen and footmen, the people stood up in their seats, the men waving their hats and the women their handkerchiefs. The applause was, I believe, more enthusiastic than that of any American audience."

Her Wedding Dress.

The Empress of Austria has caused her wedding dress to be cut up and made into a set of priestly garments for the Church of St. Matthew in Pesth. The dress was of white brocade with silver threads, embroidered all over with beautiful garlands of roses in silver. Her bridal wreath encircled an embroidered picture of the Virgin, which is to be hung up in the Lovetto Chapel of the same church which the Empress selects for her devotions. The garments will be used for the services in honor of the Virgin Mary in May.

Chinese Justice.

The European residents whose property was destroyed in the recent revolt in Chian-King, China, have received as indemnity 140,000 taels or $170,000. It was rather remarkable that this sum was paid by neither the Government nor the Province, but by the officers of the city. The Governor of Shanghai the same, while the minor officials paid the remainder in proportion to their rank. The British Consul, whose house was entirely demolished, received $30,000.

"The White Mouse."

M. de Freycinet, who has become for the fourth time Premier of the French Republic, is a peculiar creature. He is small and insignificant physically, and his countenance habitually bears a furtive, scared expression, which has led to his being dubbed "the White Mouse." His wife is a clever, ambitious woman, whose aim in life is to become "Madame la Presidente."

Expects Rapid Work.

Robert P. Porter, Superintendent of the Census, thinks the work will be so promptly done this year that he will be able to announce by August 1st how many of us compose the population. Six hundred clerks will be on hand in Washington, and electrical enumerating machines will do more work in five hours than was formerly done in fifty.

PERSONAL.

H. L. W. Knox went below last night.

S. P. Davis of the Carson Appeal was in town last evening.

F. B. Poor and family left to-day for their home in Surprise valley.

County Clerk Julien is still confined to his house by a severe illness attack.

George Humphrey, the Sierra Valley stockman, returned this morning from a trip to the Bay.

Miss Fannie Barnett left last evening for San Francisco on a visit to relatives, and will also attend the session of the Relief Corps, to be held at Napa, as a delegate from Reno.

How General Crook Was Captured.

General Crook's courtship had one romantic episode. He was stationed at Cumberland, Md., during the war, and his sweetheart was the daughter of John Daly, whose family were strong Southern sympathizers, one son being in the Confederate Army. Young Crook secured leave of absence and called on his sweetheart, spending the night at the Daly home. About 1 o'clock he awoke to find a dozen bayonets at his throat and his room full of Confederate soldiers. Crook surrendered, and before daybreak was on his way to Libby Prison, where he remained until exchanged three months afterward. The information was given by Mary's brother, who was one of his captors. The General never showed any resentment toward his wife's brother.

Taxation in Russia.

The burdens of the peasantry are very heavy. In Russia the superior classes enjoy many exemptions taken mainly from the peasant classes. The annual redemption money they have to pay to the State for their property is a most serious obligation, and besides one thing and another the burdens on the land in a vast number of cases exceed its net returns very considerably.

A Powerful Stream.

A fire-blast—The New Yorker—has just been launched for the New York Fire Department that will throw a 5-inch stream 500 feet, provided the power of all the pumps are concentrated on the one nozzle. It is also guaranteed that this 5-inch stream will work its way through any brick wall along shore. The boat will cost nearly $100,000.

A Novel Enterprise.

Fifty-two families in Decatur, Ill., have organized a co-operative boarding-house, of which the expense of each person for the best food and cooking will not exceed 11 cents a meal. The women take turns in marketing while a paid housekeeper attends to details and service.

A Church Supture.

USEFUL INFORMATION.

Timothy Fox, M. D., the eminent medical writer, in his work "Skin Diseases," thus accounts for the pimples so common to the face and neck. Eating too rich or too greasy food, or too hearty eating while the excretory organs are sluggish, causes in most people indigestion or a dyspeptic condition, which causes the blood to move sluggishly, and clogs the pores. The result is, that the exuding secretions block in the pores, which inflame, each distinct inflammation being a pimple. Dr. Fox therefore does not prescribe "blood purifiers" so called, but a "dyspepsia cure" to be taken, to use his own words, "to clear the digestive organs and disengage the blood from impure elements." The old idea was, that face eruptions were caused by a "humor in the blood," for which they treated the blood, giving the mineral, potash. Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla follows the modern ideas of Dr. Fox, and aims with gentle vegetable alternatives at the stomach and digestive organs. The reason is apparent why it cures dyspepsia and indigestion, and the pimples and skin eruptions which result therefrom and why sarsaparilla that use minerals fail.

HOW LITTLE KIT DIED.

A Tragic Scene in a Town in Far-Off Idaho.

Small and Trembling Hands That Held a Mark for a Shooter—Tragic Result of a Drunken Man's Boast—Two Graves at Soda Springs.

It was a cold autumn evening, but the red sun going down behind the spectral mountains on the desert of Idaho seemed to brighten up every thing—just as a blazing log paints the white ceiling of the sitting-room, and colors the faces of those who watch the incandescent embers glow. The village was quiet, as it always was at this time of day. It wasn't much of a village—a house here and a store there, and all blackened by storms and age. People were scarce, too. Those who were on the one broad street were the kind that grow among sage brush and greasewood—tall, heavily-jawed men, with an awkward swing to their gait and their faded clothing and high-heeled boots bespattered with mud. A lean, skulking dog prowled along the road, and three heavily saddled and branded ponies were tethered near the Ark saloon. There were two hundred and fifty people in the village but every body who lived there knew the population exceeded five hundred.

On this cold afternoon five of the in habitants sat in front of the Ark saloon. Four of them were men who wore soft hats and collarless shirts. Their coarse hands and rugged faces showed that they toiled out of doors—herding cattle on the plains no doubt. The fifth person was a little girl with hair as black as the lava blocks and eyes so big and so round that they looked like wells of ink. She wasn't even seasonably dressed, for whenever the wind brushed her she shivered, hardly as she was. A coral necklace clung so tightly to her neck that it looked like a scar. Her thin, blue dress, clumsily cut from a large garment, hung in scandalous proportions about her well-rounded body.

The men had been drinking heavily. The little girl had come to lead her father away. But the big, rough man was angry. A man from the Snake river country had questioned his ability as a marksman with a six-shooter. The dispute had been going on for an hour or more, with delicious tales of gun feats and terrific expressions of profanity, when the mite of a child stole timidly up to the big man. For a moment the child was not noticed. The wind picked up, the ragged hem of her dress and whipping it about her legs, and the big sun, glowing with the richness of a sallow skin, made the tears in the child's great eyes shine as one has seen rippling water glitter in a stream of sunshine. The glass in the shop windows was red, too, and the snow on the three mountain peaks in the distance looked like a carpet of crimson geraniums stretched over cathedral spires.

"Here's Kit, boys," the father finally exclaimed, as he looked admiringly at the tot who had some way managed to nestle beside his leg.

"I'll leave it to Kit, fellows, as to who is the handiest man with the gun. Who's the best man as what you ever seen, Kit?"

"Ma wants you to come home and eat supper," came the stammering, almost plaintive reply.

"So she does, Kit; but who's the best shooter as you know of?"

"Pap."

"Who shoots hens right and left and never spills the meat?"

"Pap."

"Whose Kit be you?"

"Pap's; but mam wants you home for supper."

The four rough men looked at the child with a stupid gaze.

"Why, I'll tell you, fellows, as speaking about shooting, me and Kit will show you something, won't we, Kit?" and the big man drew two enormous revolvers from his holsters and placed them upon a box. The child shrank instinctively at the sight of the weapons.

"Won't we, Kit?" repeated the big man, noticing that the child was silent. The black head nodded, a reluctant affirmative.

"Course we will. Kit knows 'pap, and seeing as somebody does not 'knows we will make us known." Then the man drew a leather bag from his pocket and took from it two five-dollar gold pieces.

"Now, Kit," he said, with as much pride as his thick voice could portray, "you take these shiners and walk out into the wagon-track and hold 'em up steady like, and then we'll show 'em how pap kills hens."

The child faltered, but parental discipline had been stern in her home, and with nervous fingers she seized the coins and walked bareheaded out into the street. The father seized his heavy guns and staggered proudly to the road-way.

"Stand straight like, Kit," commanded the father.

The little girl's tattered shoes came together and her white face was turned directly toward the father.

"Hold up the shiners, little un," this way—see?" and the man, placing his pistols upon the ground, held up his thumbs and index fingers so that those of each hand came together.

The little coins flashed above the tangled mass of hair.

"Be you ready, Kit?"

There was not a tremor in the little body.

The drunken man, proud of his marksmanship, leveled the muzzles of his weapons at the child.

The eyes of the shooter closed and opened in maudlin fashion. On a sudden two streams of fire poured from the black barrels of the pistols. The smoke from the weapons turned crimson as it arose in the red light. The child lay upon the ground with her legs stiffening in the lava dust. A white hand clutched one of the gold coins. The metal once clasped by the other hand had been blown down street by a bullet. One bullet had torn its way somewhere beneath that crown of tangled hair.

"Guess you hurt the child, like," one of the drunken men exclaimed, as he gave his trousers a hitch and reeled out to the spot where the child lay.

The father's heavy revolvers fell upon the ground. His ashy face moved toward the head of his child. As he grasped the rigid shoulders a tiny stream of blood trickled over his gnarled fingers. Then he arose. Men and women with terror-stricken faces were clustered about him and dogs skulked around the crowd. The sun was now so low that the peaks of the distant mountains glowed with a delicate pink, and the sky, beginning with a deep maroon at the horizon, ran in beautiful shadings to a soft, rich purple at the zenith. For a moment the father was silent. He seemed to be looking for a familiar face in the crowd. He was sober now. His face was almost hideous in its determination.

"That's the worst shot what was ever made," he finally stammered as he wiped the sweat off his face. "Boys, I can beat that. Hands off, till I show you." And before one of the villagers could reach him the frantic man pulled up one of his weapons, and, turning it full upon himself, fired.

They didn't take the bodies home that night. They were placed side by side in a feed store and guarded by three hardy villagers. There are two graves in the sage-brush near Soda Springs. The boasting marksman and his guns rest in one. The yellow grass on the other grave covers little Kit, who was buried in her tattered dress and worn-out shoes. The mother married the man from the Snake River country.—Chicago Herald.

RABBIT'S-FOOT LUCK.

Why the Old Ducky Believed in It with All His Soul.

"Do I believe that dis yere rabbit's fut brings me luck?" The old ducky repeated this question to a New York Sun man in shrill tones as he softly brushed his chin with it. "Why, sah, if it hadn't a bin fur dis fut dar's no tellin' what might a happened to me. Look at dat Julius Tompkins. He 'lowed dat a rabbit's fut was no good, an' whar is he now? Went up to Louisville to work in a pork house an' died 'wid small-pox."

"Yes."

"An' look at de time I was on dat cat barge at Mobile. Had dis yere fut hangin' on my neck by a blue string, an' some of dem niggers called me 'Hoodoo,' and was gwine to take it away from 'me an' feed it to a dog. When dat barge struck a snag an' went to de bottom who got saved? Dis yere pussan an' nobody else. Four of 'em went right down like rocks, jus' like dey might hev expected."

"Lucky for you."

"Yes, sah, an' how was it de time de ghost of Peter Robbins cum scroonin' frew our naylorhood? Pete he was hung up at Greenville, you know. I was right dar' an' seed it all, an' when he swung off I kissed dis rabbit's fut 'fo times. Some of de folks laughed at me an' called me a 'fool nigger. But how did it cum out? Peter's ghost cum up to Langville an' scart every body; outer his shoes—every body but me. Nebber knocked on my doah one single time, an' nebber left no smell of brimstone round my cabin. Couldn't do it you know. Dis yere fut was pawin' him away all de time."

"Will any rabbit's foot bring a person luck?"

"No, sah! No, sah! Dat's de reason I wouldn't sell dis one fur a million dollars in gold. De circumstances has got to be right. You has got to find your rabbit in de full of de moon. De wind has got to be from de east. Day rabbit has got to be bruntin' fur jinxwood to cure a cataract in his left eye. You has got to creep up an' kill him wid a stick dat a dead man has carried, an' when you ar' takin' off de fut you has got to h'ar a ghost cry out down in de moun. Oh, no, sah. Doan you let none of dese yere common niggers round yere sell you no common rabbit's futs. Dey wouldn't keep de k'yars on de track till you got over to Decatur."

Many Strings to Her Bow.

The Louisville Commercial tells the seemingly incredible story that at a party a few nights ago a young man, while out upon the veranda for a smoke, overheard his fiancée acknowledge being in love with the man she was then with, saw him kiss her, and then heard her promise to marry him. When they left he was so stunned that he stayed where he was until he was startled by another couple coming to the same window. He started to leave, but recognizing the voice of his fiancée he stood still and was witness to the same proceedings that had first caused him pain. He was so overpowered with grief that he sank down upon the porch and in an agony of expectation waited to see if it would happen again. Again it did happen; in fact, it happened twice more. Upon escorting the fickle lady home after the party he told her that, having become engaged to four men that night, she would not miss his ring or himself, and he therefore wanted to be released from his engagement, to which the damsel assented.

STOVES AND FUEL.

How the Former Should Be Handled and the Latter Saved.

A good range or cooking stove lightens a woman's work so much that every kitchen should contain one; though the parlor be unfurnished or the house unpainted, have a safe, reliable stove with which to do the family cooking. A cooking stove should be roomy; it is a mistake to buy a small stove. The drafts, flues and chimney should be known that no sparks can escape any place, especially where the pipe enters the chimney. It will pay. Have your fire safe! Insurance money is hard enough to get when all the conditions have been justly complied with. It is terrible to burn out! If your stove smokes, find out the reason and stop it. We get old and ugly soon enough—don't allow yourself to be smoked.

Whatever kind of fuel is used, insist upon it being good; if you burn wood, have at least half of it dry. Green wood can be burned sometimes, but never attempt to bake with it. Have a woodshed and see that it is filled. Nothing less than a saint can keep her temper and cook breakfast over a sulky, undecided fire, when the kitchen is blue with smoke and the wood sings psalms and sheds tears. Soft coal makes a cheap and hot fire. It is dirty; a filter attached to the eastern is a necessity if soft coal is used. It is better than poor wood.

Hard coal is excellent to cook or in winter if the stove is made to burn it. Patience is an important requisite when learning to make, keep and use a hard-coal fire. It seems easy and is, when one learns how; one of the first things to learn is to leave it alone. "Never have the coal come above the stove-lining. The fire will not be so bright, fuel will waste, because the draught is not so good. When not using the fire keep dampers closed; when needed open the drafts. For cooking or baking, no matter how hot the fire desired, having the coal come nearly to the top of the lining, the fire ought to last four hours without new coal or poking. The top of the stove may be red hot, the coal piled up to the flue, and yet the oven will not bake. There is too much coal in, and the draught is stopped by it."

Gasoline is the best fuel for summer. But one must be careful when using it. One with a double burner for wash boiler and oven and two single burners costs about $16. Two and one-half gallons of gasoline at 16¢ per gallon will do the cooking, washing and ironing one week for a family of four. Then think of the comfort! A kerosene lamp stove with one burner is very handy. A quart of water can soon be boiled on one.—Good Housekeeping.

SAXON VIOLIN-MAKERS.

A Part of Germany Devoted to the Manufacture of Fiddles.

In Markneukirchen, with its surrounding villages, Klingenthal, Fleissen, Rohrbach and Graslitz, in Saxony, are about 15,000 people who do nothing else, day after day, but make violins. The inhabitants, from the little urchin to the old gray-haired man, the small girl, and the old grandmother, all are engaged in making some parts of a fiddle.

A good instrument consists of sixty-two different pieces. The older men make the finger-board from ebony, and the string holder or the screws. The small boys make themselves useful by looking after the glue pot. A man with strong, steady hands and a clear eye puts the different pieces together, and this is the most difficult task of all. The women generally occupy themselves as polishers, and the family that has a daughter who is a good polisher is considered fortunate. Even a young man, when he goes to school, is asked whether the young girl is a good polisher; and if she is, he certainly will increase his affection for her at least two-fold. The polishing takes a good deal of time, some of the best violins being twenty and even, thirty times polished. Every family has its peculiar style of polishing, and they never vary from that. There is one that makes nothing but a deep wine color, another a citron color, yet another an orange color, and so on.—Cor. Boston Transcript.

The equivalent, in English money, of $500 was once offered by an old lady in London for the return of a favorite cat which had strayed or been stolen. People called her a "crank," and perhaps she was. It is unfortunate that one of the gentler sex should ever gain this title, yet many do. It is, however, frequently not their fault. Often functional derangements will apparently change a woman's entire nature. Don't blame such sufferers if they are "cranky," but tell them to use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which is an infallible remedy for a female weakness.

"Favorite Prescription" has cured thousands of poor, bed-ridden suffering women of female weakness, painful irregularities, ulcerations, organic displacements and kindred ailments too numerous to mention. It is the only medicine for women sold by druggists, under a positive guarantee that it will, in every case, give satisfaction or the price ($1.00) will be refunded.
